DETAILED ACTION

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.
2. Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Donald L. Otto (Reg. No. 22,125) on March 21, 2006.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 1 (amended)            A method of selecting a light redirecting film for a particular application comprising the steps of providing a length of film having a pattern of optical elements on or in the film that varies, selecting an area of the pattern that best suits a particular application, and removing the selected area from the film to provide the light redirecting film, the selected area having substantially less than a 100% of the total area of the pattern.

Claim 10 (amended)            A method of selecting a light redirecting film for a particular application comprising the steps of providing a length of film having a pattern of individual optical elements of well defined shape on or in the film that varies, the optical elements being quite small in relation to a width and length of the film, selecting an area of the film that has a pattern of the optical elements that best suits a particular application, and removing the selected area from the film to provide the light redirecting film, the selected area having substantially less than a 100% of the total area of the pattern.

Claim 20 (amended)                      A method of selecting an optical panel for a particular application comprising the steps of providing a length of substrate having a pattern of optical elements on or in the substrate that varies, selecting an area of the pattern that best suits a particular application, and removing the selected area from the substrate to provide the optical panel, the selected area having substantially less than a 100% of the total area of the pattern.

Claim 30 (amended)                      A method of selecting an optical panel for a particular application comprising the steps of providing a length of substrate having a pattern of individual optical elements of well defined shape on or in the substrate that varies, the optical elements being quite small in relation to a width and length of the substrate, selecting an area of the substrate that has a pattern of the optical elements that best suits a particular application, and removing the selected area from the substrate to provide the optical panel, the selected area having substantially less than a 100% of the total area of the pattern.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-37 are allowed.

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Applicant teaches method of selecting a light redirecting film for a particular application, such method comprising the steps of providing a length of film having a varying pattern of optical elements on or in the film, selecting an area of the pattern that best suits a particular application, and removing the selected area from the film to provide the light redirecting film, the selected area having substantially less than a 100% of the total area of the pattern.

While film having a plurality of optical elements in a non-uniform pattern are old and well known in the art, no prior art was found teaching individually, or suggesting in combination, all of the features of the applicants' invention, specifically a method of providing such films by selecting and cutting a portion of a film having a pattern that best suits a given application, wherein the selected portion is substantially less than 100% of the area of the total area of the film.

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
